IRIC

The Institute for Research in Immunology and Cancer of Université de Montréal is a global standard bearer in basic and applied research to vanquish cancer

IRIC operates according to a unique model in Canada which combines under one roof fundamental research activities, a university-level training program and a research maturation team so that its discoveries allow the advancement of knowledge or can be translated quickly in new therapeutic solutions.

Your sponsorship's impact

All profits raised during the event will directly support research to vanquish cancer.

Your support will help sustain IRIC in its efforts to advance cancer knowledge and discover new therapies.

Your support will allow the Young Philanthropists to continue their efforts to
